Round 1 Seat Allocation for M.Tech. Admissions 2021-22

Date of Publication: 2-06-2021

- Results for Round 1 Seat Allocation have been declared.
- The candidates should login into the admission portal to check the provisional allotment of seat and accept the offer by paying the first installment of program fees.
- Only the candidates who will pay the first installment of program fee will be able to upload their documents on the admission portal.
- Process for how to upload the documents and other formalities will be updated soon on the M.Tech. Admission page.

Note: This year in M.Tech. (CSE), students will be admitted in core branch i.e. CSE rather than specialization i.e. Data Engineering, Information Security etc. The candidates are free to choose their specialisation during their studies. Guidelines for each specialisation are defined separately. If a student completes the requirement of a particular specialisation along with the requirement of M.Tech.(CSE) core/bucket, then they will be eligible to graduate with that specialisation. Final degree will be awarded after due verification of completion of all requirements.
